TENNESSEE

Middle Tennessee State University

J. Donald Craig, Dean of the James E. Walker Library at Middle Tennessee State University, has retired after 38 years of service with the University. Craig joined the Walker Library in 1972 as Assistant Librarian after having served as Assistant to the Director of the Joint University Libraries in Nashville. He became University Librarian in 1976 followed by his appointment as Dean in 1994. He oversaw the growth of the library collection from 200,000 books to over 1 million print and electronic items and was heavily involved in bringing the library into an active instructional role in the University. Craig shared his expertise through research contributions, consulting, workshops, and presentations. He had a long history of professional involvement from co-founding the Mid-State Library Association in Tennessee to his long service in the Tennessee chapter of the Phi Kappa Phi honor society. He served as President of the Tennessee Library Association and helped found the Nashville Area Library Alliance, a consortium dedicated to enriching the learning experience in the middle Tennessee region. Craig was an early adopter of technology in libraries and has been an advocate for collaborative and consortial relationships with other academic libraries for many years. He shepherded the planning and construction of the award winning Walker Library facility at Middle Tennessee State University which opened in 1999.
